WELCOME

Welcome to the 26th year of the Pride In Print Awards.

Another year of coming together with industry competitors and colleagues to recognise who has produced work to the required standard of excellence to earn a Gold Medal, and then to see who is the best of the best. With great pleasure we also celebrate the Apprentice of the Year and the Industry Training Awards.

Ultimately these Awards are where the Print Industry shows itself and the wider world what can be done with Print. It is something for us all to be proud about, as it is the result of a collective effort in a very competitive market to encourage excellence across the industry. If we all chip in a little bit of what we can, we will continue to make these Awards a real showpiece for the Print Industry, and an ongoing foundation for its success.

we will continue to make these Awards a real showpiece for the Print Industry, and an ongoing foundation for its success.

Thank you for your ongoing support.

CELEBRATING THE GOOD STUFF

Pride In Print celebrates the great stuff the industry creates and this makes our Pride In Print Awards an industry night to share and celebrate successes.

Moving on from our 25-year celebrations in 2018 has proven an interesting year. Changes we have noticed is the increased interest and entries being received from the design and print buying sectors. The Awards are viewed as a benchmark for print excellence and therefore an award to strive for. With many of the industry now utilizing the brand as part of their internal and external marketing the word is out there. If you have it - definitely flaunt it. We encourage you to continue to do this - if you are that good make sure you let everyone know - because this could be your point of difference.

The industry continues to go through change and whilst some areas of print are in a growth phase and others, decline, the same applied in 1993 when the Awards were launched. Today's entries make those of '93 look like poor relations, such is the pace of change in both technology and demand.

This is no different to any other industry and the one thing we can all be sure of change is always imminent.

To all tonight's winners Congratulations. Your work is the best of the best - no company enters work that is easy to eliminate anymore - those days are well gone.

We have worked to connect a little better with those using social media and perhaps the new entrants reflect this marketing angle. Categories have been tweaked and at judging this year we have discussed further updates for entry in 2020. Change is what makes us stronger - being proactive and not reactive might keep us just in front of the wave.

well gone. The 2019 winners list is quite spread and we have several new gold winners included in tonight's celebrations. That's an excellent result and we hope you enjoy tonight's event and continue your celebrations when you get back to your work places.

It's always good to celebrate the good stuff.

CONVENOR WELCOME

Welcome to the 2019 Pride In Print Awards evening as we celebrate our amazing industry.

Tonight is a fantastic way to acknowledge and recognize the commitment to excellence our industry has made over the last 12 months, and based on the 2019 entries that level of excellence is certainly very high.

The 2019 entries continues to push the limits in terms of quality and innovation, and while the judges have witnessed some categories explode on to the scene in recent years in these areas, all categories are showing great use of new and existing technologies combined with excellent craftsmanship. Every year we see entries that blow our mind, and 2019 was no exception.

This year the judges have recommended a few new awards, as well as some changes to existing awards, which we felt reflected the changes to our industry as well as the adaption to new technology. I am pleased to say the Pride In Print committee reviewed these and have included them in this year's awards.

Thank you for supporting these awards, thank you for your part in making our industry the dynamic place it is.

Have a great evening.

Convenor Dickon Lentell

SPECIAL RECOGNITION

Retiring on a high note: Laurie Pilling of Admark Visual Imaging, Hamilton takes the company to 50 Gold Medals

It is a pleasure to take this opportunity to recognise the contribution to the Awards programme made by Laurie Pilling of Admark Visual Imaging, Hamilton.

Admark have been entrants into the Pride In Print Awards since the inception of the Awards in 1993 – at this time, of the 16 Golds presented, one went to Admark for the Fortune Corporation Roulette Machine Label in the Self Adhesive Label category. Of the 16 medal winners in 1993 only 5 companies remain today – Admark being one of these.

In all the years that followed Laurie has been instrumental in ensuring Admark have been supporters of the Awards programme, entering and attending events locally and nationally. Laurie has been a strong advocate for the vehicle that is Pride In Print Awards standing alongside the programme and doing all he can to assist promote print in New Zealand.

Laurie's company this year has been inducted into the 50 Medal Winners Club, and furthermore the Pride In Print Awards acknowledge tonight at our most recognised industry event Laurie's contribution, support and drive to assist promote and be an important part of the Pride In Print Awards.

Over the last 26 years there have been back lit burger signs, plane wraps, vehicle wraps, labels, point of sale and billboard signage entries – across many processes – self adhesive reel fed, screen, digital and sheetfed to name a few. Tonight marks Laurie's last at the helm as he will retire in the next few months...he leaves a strong legacy for the team to continue to grow – 50 golds and 40 highly commended awards under his watch together with process and category wins since this was commenced in 2010.

MEDAL WINNERS CLUB

50 & 100 Gold Medal Winners

Awards Manager, Sue Archibald says she is "excited to have the opportunity to get out to the print community a further opportunity to celebrate successes - after all that's what Pride In Print is all about - promoting print excellence."
